Dr. Albert Quan Joins Home Kidney Care, LLC in Dallas as Pediatric Medical Director

July 11, 2011, Dallas, Texas — Home Kidney Care, LLC is pleased to announce the addition of Albert H. Quan, M.D., to our team as Pediatric Medical Director. Dr. Quan will be providing peritoneal dialysis services for Home Kidney Care’s pediatric patients.

Specializing in pediatric nephrology, dialysis, and renal transplantation, Dr. Quan brings a wealth of expertise to the center. He served as an Associate Professor at the University of Texas Southwestern and the Children's Medical Center, and he later established a successful pediatric nephrology practice at Medical City Children's Hospital.

“Home Kidney Care has a great team in place, and I am excited to add yet another dimension,” said Dr. Quan, a Board-Certified Pediatric Nephrologist. “The center is focused on the highest standards of care, and their reputation in the industry is top-notch.”

The feeling is mutual. “Dr. Quan’s comprehensive knowledge about pediatric treatment is an essential component to our home dialysis services,” said Dan Smith, Vice President of Business Development for Renal Ventures Management, LLC, the parent company of Home Kidney Care. “In our experience, children benefit greatly from the added convenience and comfort of home dialysis, and Dr. Quan’s expertise will greatly improve the success of their treatment.”
